I have tried searching for a solution with no luck. A: This is not a problem in PS but a problem in the PDF. The files have to have the same fonts. If you open the PDF file with Acrobat, you can see the issue. Try adding the missing fonts manually and saving the files. Butyrate induces apoptosis in bovine hepatic stellate cells. Hepatic stellate cells undergo epithelial-mesenchymal transition in liver fibrosis and reversion to an epithelial phenotype is associated with improvement in liver function. Butyrate has been shown to induce apoptosis in many cancer cell lines. We hypothesized that butyrate would induce apoptosis in hepatic stellate cells. Primary hepatic stellate cells (HSC) were treated with butyrate at concentrations up to 10 mM, and apoptosis was quantified using caspase-3 assay, Annexin V-FITC, and propidium iodide staining. Induction of apoptosis was confirmed in vitro with butyrate by caspase-3 assay. Because HSC are usually treated in vitro with mixed cell populations from diseased liver, we treated HSC with butyrate in the presence of apoptosis-resistant cells (rat mesangial cells), and apoptosis of HSC was quantified. Apoptosis was also quantified in HSC treated with butyrate in the presence of butyrate-resistant hepatocyte-derived cells, which were obtained by enriching rat primary hepatocytes using a Percoll density gradient. Apoptosis of HSC was confirmed by the presence of caspase-3 in the cytoplasm. Dose-dependent apoptosis was induced in HSC in the presence of butyrate-resistant rat mesangial cells (1.3-1.5-fold) and resistant rat primary hepatocytes (1.4-2.2-fold). Butyrate-induced apoptosis in HSC could be partly blocked with pan-caspase inhibitors z-VAD-fmk and z-DEVD-fmk. Butyrate induces apoptosis in HSC. The presence of butyrate-resistant cells can mask the effect of butyrate.Q: How can I create a new calendar event with google apps scripts?
