The Caravan is a legendary group of misfits, bandits, pickpockets, and criminals. Until now, they've lived in the wild, following a lifetime of illegal deeds and a code of blood. People are just made out of blood, sweat, and tears. And sometimes the blood of innocents. As the leader of a small caravan of outcasts, the protagonist will have for the first time in his life true autonomy over not only his fate but even on that of those who surround him: will he protect his people or pursue his own fortune? Juggle an intricate web of resources and relationships while keeping your enemies in the dark in this highly replayable dark tale. Only one thing is sure: escape isn't an option anymore. A richly illustrated choose-your-own adventure with a unique narrative arc propels the player in an age renowned for its shadiness, where nothing is only what it appears to be: no clear distinction between good and evil exists, nor between friends and allies. Different gameplay systems ensure a high engagement throughout each playthrough - revealing the different aspects of the Caravan's life in the form of a variety of riddles and minigames. Play the entire story and maintain your relationships, follow the caravan's progress in the updated Hometown, or take on the role of a wanted criminal to steal everything and everyone away from your enemies. Watch carefully: you only ever play once.

About Gamera Interactive: Gamera Interactive (pronounced Gamera-like) is a studio founded in 2010 by Fabio D'Alessio, who formerly worked as character artist for J.C.Staff (at the time of its closure) and has been a writer and animator for both the anime industry and computer games, as well as a concept artist for some animation and films. In these years, he has delivered artwork and character designs for the games The Last Remnant, The Last Story, Akiba's Beat, Sword Art Online: The Beginning, and Akiba's Trip, among others. The team has also developed Knights of Pen and Paper: The Lady of the Bow, a medieval fighting game following the life of a young thief and his quest for freedom; an iPhone game called Mahjong Dreams - Metamorphos and a Metroidvania-RPG made for iOS called Damiana. Their first game was a point-and-click adventure called Black

About

Space Tycoon is a shareware version of the new game Farm&Girls (Tycoon Games 3D) and features all the essential functionality of both. Farm&Girls is a weathered farmer with a heart of gold and a great amount of charm with an easy to use interface, high, challenging monster tracks and a lot of entertainment through a huge variety of farm animals, dressing rooms and huts. On the farm you can upgrade the farm with new facilities, buy new animals and produce for the profit. To get to know the little pigs, chickens, pigs and dogs, you have to feed them proper food, which is the purpose of the many huts on the farm. To do this you need the right amount of energy, which is automatically generated, produced by the turning blades of the windmill. You can also buy energy with

Rogue Shooter is a first-person shooter game where you play as a man on a mission. Good Lord. You wake up in a cold, grey room. There is a chair and a table in the room. Upon the table lies a laptop. You ask yourself "Why am I here?" You have no idea why you are here and it's making you very uncomfortable. After 20 minutes of constant shaking, you decide to get out of there. You exit the room. You don't know what is happening to the station. Some time passes and you move on. After a while, the ground shakes again. This time, it's you who shakes, you're the one who is uncomfortable. After being bombarded with a stream of alien tentacles and giant robots, you are captured by giant mutant spiders and thrown into a cage. The last thing you see before the lights fade is a bright red neon "NO" sign. Now on to the good part, even though the story thus far has been pretty bad. What's new in this game? Accomplishments! There are achievements to collect in Rogue Shooter. They unlock awesome rewards like the secret "No" challenge level, TFTD avatar, and more. We're also updating the list of achievements! There will be over 200 achievements included in this update. There will be a level cap! Levels are fun, but not fun enough. Not that we're complaining, we love levels. Good for you, us, and those who don't share our unhealthy obsession with levels. I feel like this is an exciting change, but I'm still not sold on the "level cap." I have a feeling that level caps just get thrown around until the people who really care about them finally give in and concede. We're not here for that. Besides, it's only 10 levels. 10 levels! Okay, but how do I get to level 10? Levels are tricky, and they're also a pain to get into. You don't always have a jump to level 10, and if you don't get the ranking times fast enough, you're stuck in level 1 forever. Levels c9d1549cdd

In a valley on a summer day, a creature made of darkness appears, with a keen desire to pollute the world with plastic. Join Nero and his friend, a young anglerfish who can absorb plastics and mutate his body to become a mutated fish. While Nero struggles to avoid toxic waste while collecting nuts and other food to eat, you're in charge of seeing the world clean once more. Push tons of plastic back to the surface in a lot of creative ways, and eat toxic waste to keep the ocean environment clean and safe. Choose what your friends say to you. Watch the videos and go down memory lane as you learn the shocking truth about how our environment got to the place it's at today. We have a goal, we have a mission. Without going to the depths of the Earth, without crossing the mountains, and without meeting other explorers, we'll go to the center of the planet, find the source of plastic, and stop it. And you can be part of the solution, just as you were the problem. To you the anti-pollution leader. We want you to take control and decide what is going to happen. Together, we can stop the plastic. Pick your favourite emoji. Embark on an adventure in the colorful world of "Nero" with an interactive story, puzzles, challenges and bosses to be overcome. You are Nero and must save the world from the pollution. Mankind has despoiled the land and sea. Our planet is destroyed. Only you can save it. A rogue angler fish tries to ruin the lives of the oceans creatures by polluting the oceans with plastics. Discover the true story of pollution in the depths of the ocean. Save the planet by defeating the mutated fish, collect food, money and send the plastics back to their origin. One of the worlds most special creatures is being infected by a plastic disease. Nero must venture into the depth of the ocean to get rid of plastic pollution. The mission is to clean up the planet for the coming generations. Pressure is applied for your wrong doings by your friends on social media. Your actions on a daily basis have a considerable effect on the state of the ocean. Play as the anti-pollution hero and clean up the polluted ocean. Thank you for stopping the pollution. With this #pollutioncleanup mission, we can now hope for a better and cleaner future. The story and gameplay of this game is a cross between the spirit of old point

What's new:

Posen The Battle Army Posen (Polish: Armia Bojowa Warszawa) was a Polish army that fought during the Polish-Bolshevik War on Soviet soil. It existed after the independent Polish state was forced to temporarily cede western Belorussia to the Soviet Union during the Polish-Soviet War. Prelude In the 1920 campaign for Vilnius, the Polish Army of the Interbellum stretched to 1.2 million soldiers. The Red Army for the Soviets of Peter Dehn, a former commander, had around 800,000 soldiers. Almost a fifth of them was mounted. After the Treaty of Riga, the Polish army withdrew from the border of Riga and its western suburbs to the river Daugava in late January 1920, east of the so-called Naliboki bridgehead. To the north, its left flank reached the town of Dvinsk, while its right flank ended at the Polish-Lithuanian border near the town of Śmiłowo. The Armia Bojowa, subsequently, to garrison Puck (Pawikowo), a town which became a center of counter-insurgency operations carried out by the Polish Army on orders from Marshal Józef Piłsudski after the clash between the two Polish armies ended on 7 January 1920 in a clear victory for the Soviets. At the time, the entire Army Posen had around 100,000 soldiers. That army was commanded by General Mieczysław Jankowski, who led the new army in the central sector of the frontiers. The Polish border troops consisted of Polish Army infantry units and several battalions of the various Polish volunteer units. The Polish Army was reinforced with several reserve units, among which the Trans-Baikal Freikorps. Before the start of the war, the commander of the Polish Army was General Antoni Szylling. Initial phases After the Polish army, commanded by Marshal Józef Piłsudski, arrived to the border of the Riga and renewed the war against the Soviet forces, on February 23, 1920 the first clashes of the war were begun. The army took positions on the border and in all neighboring territories. The right flank of the army pushed into the Mamonovo forest near Sanok. The so-called Trans Baikal Freikorps (also known as the Freikorps von Kleist
