What's New In?

Themes. This project management and issue tracker application has it all. It's easy to start, easy to use, and can do everything you need! With Ketura, you can track assignments, schedule tasks, and even show the progress of your team projects to clients. Subtasks. For each issue, you can set up subtasks. This lets you break down a huge task into smaller manageable pieces and track each piece separately. The subtasks also appear as a menu when you view the issue details.

Navigation. With Ketura, the only thing you need to do is click on a task. The project management application pulls up the necessary information, and gives you options on how you want to work.

Custom fields. Edit and add custom fields that you want to track in your issues. This is great for keeping track of your team projects like sprints, a mobile app, or website on different platforms.

Submission form. You can have multiple submission forms for different clients. This lets you start and complete projects, and track them all at once.

Client management. Enable or disable clients as needed. What clients are on your team projects? What projects are these clients on? Manage them all in one project management application.

Time tracking. Track your hours and assign tasks to the correct person. The issue tracker app keeps track of all your hourly work and tasks so that you can bill your clients properly.

Logging. The entry form can automatically log in as you work. This way, you can keep track of who did what, when they did it, and even what the description was of that task.

So what do you need to know?

- Tracker for all types of projects. Develop projects, manage clients, track hours and assign tasks.
- Enter time for entire forms as you work and bill your clients.
- Submit your time and invoice your client and the client pays with one click.
- Checklists for all type of project management.
- Custom fields like the ability to add custom tasks, custom sub tasks or custom time tracking for your projects.
- Time tracker, so you can enter in time as you work.
- Submission form, so you can submit your time and track your hours with ease.
- A project manager, so you can assign tasks and clients to different projects and keep them straight.
- Issue tracker to keep track of your bugs, customers issues and any requests you want to get done.
- Splash screen with a
