How to build a PC using Windows 8 and Windows 8.1 SFP NTFS RAID. Enantioselective homo-coupling of γ - or δ -butyllithium on chiral dibenzopentacene- and -bicyclopentacene derivatives: an approach to chiral oligo(acene) derivatives. Reduction of the dibenzo- γ / δ -butyllithium addition products of γ / δ -butyllithium adducts derived from chiral dibenzopentacene/bicyclopentacene derivatives by lithium aluminium hydride/trimethylaluminium produced the corresponding amino alcohols/amides in high enantiomeric excess. These results suggest the operation of a homo-coupling reaction involving two like-oriented substrates. The nature of the substrates as well as that of the reaction conditions studied here allowed to identify an active catalytic pathway leading to the formation of a new C-Li bond and an enantioselective induction of a Li-Li bond. Javid and Harman, Labour have fallen behind on tax-cutting plan The Tories will become more appealing to the middle class, according to a poll for a new paper from the Resolution Foundation think tank that will be launched in the House of Commons on Tuesday. The influential think tank says it is probably the most comprehensive survey to date of tax benefit spending in the UK, and indicates that the Tories have closed the gap with Labour on the issue. In its "income tax and housing benefit study" of 13 million households, the research group behind the study, set up in 2004, said the Conservatives are about as strong on income tax cuts as Labour. But Labour have a bigger
